Quality Statement – February 2019

As RED (EU) Ltd, we assemble and supply branded diagnostic tools, predominately to the automotive aftermarket. We also provide technical support to our customers and collect and analyse technical data.

We aim to be the leading global supplier of branded diagnostic tools and vehicle data.

To achieve this, we will continually seek to improve and develop our products and services. We will set objectives for improvement and monitor progress appropriately.

We are committed to providing excellent customer service and to the continual improvement of all our products and services.

We are committed to maintaining, and continually improve wherever possible, our Quality Management System (QMS) in line with ISO9001:2015 and known applicable requirements, to ensure a service which combines technical and industry competence with excellent customer support and integrity.

The Policy will be made available to relevant interested parties as appropriate and will be communicated, understood and applied by all staff.
